Your Learning Agenda ...

Contraception and Women's Health issues

Managing contraception and women's health problems in primary care using case-based discussions and up to date, evidence-based medicine.

This will include:

- Vulval discomfort and pain with sex - a consultation challenge
- Problematic vaginal discharge - physiological or pathological
- Heavy, intermenstrual, post coital and infrequent bleeding - when to investigate, when to refer?
- PMS and menopause matters - primary care are the specialists
- Ovarian cysts - a common occurrence but when should they be taken seriously?
- Commonly occurring problems related to contraceptive methods and what's new?
