About the speaker ...

Thomas F Poyner MB BS FRCP (Lond) FRCP (Glas) FRCGP DPD

Tom is involved in medical education, and more recently has acted as a medically qualified member of tribunal panels. He was previously a full time GP and a Hospital Practitioner in Dermatology. He has also provided dermatology clinics in the community.

Tom is involved in teaching undergraduates and is an honorary clinical lecturer at Durham University. He is also active in postgraduate medical education; roles include acting as examiner for the diploma in dermatology based at Glasgow. He lectures regularly on a variety of dermatological topics for various organisations.

Tom was a founder member, former chair, and is currently a trustee of the Primary Care Dermatology Society. He has served on a number of working parties relating to dermatology in primary care and is an Editorial Board member of the journal "Dermatology in Practice".

Tom's books include Common Skin Diseases, How do we manage: Acne, and Dermatology made easy: How to make the diagnosis. Tom has published original research on community dermatology. This includes work on the epidemiology and treatment of skin disease.
