Meet the Speaker ...

Dr Roger Neighbour OBE MA DSc FRCGP FRCP FRACGP

Roger Neighbour qualified from King's College, Cambridge and St Thomas' Hospital. After vocational training in Watford he became a GP in Abbots Langley, Hertfordshire from 1974 to 2003.

He was a trainer and course organiser with the Watford Vocational Training Scheme for many years, an MRCGP examiner for 20 years, and Convenor of the RCGP's Panel of Examiners from 1997 to 2002. In 2003 he was elected President of the Royal College of General Practitioners for a three year term.

An interest in the psychology of the doctor-patient relationship and of the teacher-learner relationship in vocational training led Roger to write 'The Inner Consultation' (1987, 2nd ed. 2005) and 'The Inner Apprentice' (1992 2nd ed. 2005). A collection of his medico-philosophical writing ('I'm too hot now') was published in 2005.

Now retired from clinical practice, Roger continues to write, teach and lecture in the UK and worldwide on consulting skills and general practice. In 2011 he was awarded an OBE for services to medical education. He enjoys playing the violin to semi-professional standard and spending time at his second home in Normandy. He also plays golf badly, but not quite badly enough to give up.

GP Practices all over the UK are saving huge amounts of time and money: they are now using ..

Your Learning Agenda ...

General Practice
Preserving the Pride and the Pleasure

General practice is an increasingly stressful job. Generalism feels under threat from the remorselessly rising expectations of patients and politicians. Every consultation risks corruption by box-ticking, imposed agendas and the merciless race against the clock. And yet at the core of general practice lies the GP's unique relationship of trust with every individual patient - something in which we deserve to take pride and pleasure.

in this seminar Roger Neighbour revisits the consultation, hoping to suggest a few ways in which consulting skills can help stave off disappointment and frustration, and even provide a measure of professional refreshment!
