Meet the Speaker ..

Dr Emma Lightbody

I am currently a GP trainee in the North West. I graduated from Barts & The London School of Medicine in 2010, and whilst there initiated the Prehospital Care Programme which has been adopted at several medical schools. I graduated with approximately 2000 hours of combined experience gained with the London Ambulance Service and London's Air Ambulance.

I undertook an academic Foundation Programme, combining emergency medicine with a role as a Clinical Educator at the University of Leicester. After completing the first 3 years of Emergency Medicine training and the MRCEM examinations I decided to undertake training in General Practice.

Currently I work as a Less Than Full Time Trainee, maintain my Emergency Medicine skillset, and work as a Prehospital Trainer for Greater Manchester Fire & Rescue. I have voluntary roles with the West Yorkshire Medical Response Team and the BMA. I hold APLS, ALS, PHTLS and ATLS.

I aim to achieve a balanced portfolio career encompassing General Practice, Emergency Medicine, Prehospital Medicine & Education.
