Introducing your speaker

Dr David Capehorn
GP Bristol

Associate Specialist in Paediatric Emergency Medicine

Meet the Speaker ...

Dr David Capehorn

Dr Capehorn has been a qualified doctor for more than thirty years. He trained at the University of Bristol and has always been based around Bristol and Gloucestershire. He has a broad range of experience, but he has specialist expertise in paediatrics. He has worked in various roles at Bristol Children's Hospital for 30 years, having undertaken training in paediatric emergency medicine and having written a textbook on the subject.

He continues to work as an Honorary Associate Specialist in paediatric emergency medicine in the emergency department at Bristol Children's Hospital alongside his work as a GP.

There is little time in Dr Capehorn's busy work life other than for his family, but he enjoys sports such as tennis, playing to a reasonable level and he enjoys annoying his family with his love of rare and obscure Delta Blues and Chicago Blues music!
